To whom it may concern,

My wife and I had the pleasure to meet Don and Karren Haller in 2002 shortly after they moved their business, Biomasters, Inc. to San Antonio, Texas. Don was kind enough to introduce us to his product MicroSoil®, reviewed it in his lab and told us about all the benefits that came from using such a product.

The product itself is fantastic, for I have a very heavy clay soil here in south Texas. MicroSoil® has increased the organic matter count and has enriched my soils immensely. I have also seen the protein levels increase in the pastures where I have used MicroSoil®. After using this product for approximately (13) thirteen years now, I can honestly say that MicroSoil® is by far the best organic soil conditioner on the market today second to none. The biggest success is that, since using MicroSoil®, all of my bales of grass are sold immediately after baling, there are never any bales left for me to keep!

One last thing to say is that the customer service I have received from Don's company far exceeds what I would have ever expected.

It has been a real pleasure and blessing being able to work with Don and Karren Haller and their company.
